

NDIS Cultural and Linguistic Diversity (CALD) Strategy Information Session

The National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA) is co-designing a new Cultural and Linguistic Diversity (CALD) Strategy and action plan. We are doing this by working with people with disability from CALD backgrounds.

This information session will provide an overview of the project and share key learnings about ways to improve the NDIS for CALD people with disability.

At the end of the event, we will invite you to have your say about how the NDIS can support people with disability from CALD backgrounds achieve outcomes on an equal basis with the broader population.

Who should attend: We encourage people who have not already participated in our CALD Strategy focus groups, who have lived experience of disability to attend, or those who represent a CALD disability community or advocacy group.
